HORSEMEN FOR HELSINKI

With the show season in mid-season so much activity causes one to lose sight of the hard work being steadily put in behind the scenes this summer by Colonel Wofford and others of the Olympic Equestrian Team Committee to fit a group of horsemen to represent the United States at Helsinki. There are three separate teams of horsemen now in the process of selection. The 3-day team that must compete for endurance, over jumps, and in simple dressage; a second group of dressage only; and a third competing for the celebrated Prix des Nations jumping award for horses to be shown as jumpers only, under F. E. I. Rules.

The hub of this activity is at Fort Riley, Kansas where Colonel John Wofford has been collecting army horses, last year's horses used at the trials and a number of new prospects. Here work is going on for all three groups of riders but the strings that are pulling order from confusion must of necessity extend all over the country, wherever good horses and enthusiastic young riders are willing to help their country carry the ball in the equestrian team events.

General Boye has some recent information and as executive vice president he speaks with authority. So far of the 10 zones selecting riders and horses for the Prix des Nations contests, 5 trials have been held, some of them as yet uncompleted. Billy Steinkraus has qualified in Zone 2 on the Nardin owned Trader Bean Bag. He will also ride the Ferraro's Black Watch. In Zone 3, John Russell won the trial by default and will ride By Day, the only horse owned by the U. S. Equestrian Team. In Zone 4 covering the Virginia, Carolina and Washington, D. C. area, Grover Stephens already in the army and at Fort Riley is expected to represent the Zone unless other contestants are selected at the Warrenton Show.

There are no riders selected as yet for Zones 5, 6, 7, 8. In Zone 9 the trials were won by Peter Darling with Virginia Zimmerman's Mad Money and Analyze belonging to Suzanne Penn, both top horses. In Zone 10 Norma Mathews Lauer who rode on the team last year was defeated by 17-year-old Barbara Bush of California on Charlie. Miss Bush will represent Zone 10.

In the jumping phase at Fort Riley where selections will be made on October 1 through 5, contestants will have a number of Army horses that are now back in this country and galloping. They have been in quarantine for some time but are expected to be in fair shape by Fall. These horses are familiar by name to many: Swizzlestick, Grey Fox, Rattler, Rascal, Tortilla and Blue Devil, the last one recently on the sick list. After the team selections in October the Prix team will campaign in Harrisburg, New York and Toronto and will then return to Fort Riley. Tentative plans currently call for this team to compete in Europe or England for some preliminary shows before the 1952 Olympics.

Also at Fort Riley are Arthur McCashin and Carol Durand, members of last year's team who are schooling horses and have Paleface and Reno Kirk going well. They are each riding 2 of the leased horses from the Army. Colonel Wofford has had 7 boys at Riley working for the 3-day contest. This number has now been reduced to 5 all of whom are reported as excellent young riders. Messrs. Staley and James from Missouri, John Wofford, Jr. from Kansas, Hough from California and Fraser from Montana. In addition to their private mounts these five are training army horses Rocket, Rhythm, Palisade and Swing Low. These boys have been training for several months and will also have trials the first week in October to determine which of the group will remain in training.

In dressage the numbers are exceedingly limited but are not lacking in quality. Captain Borg and Colonel Tuttle (ret.) are both working horses. Captain Borg's mount is the army horse Bill Biddle while Colonel Tuttle has a young horse that may be ready by next year. Fritz Stecken is training Noble in New York as well as a young rider and hopes to have both ready for Helsinki. Circular No. 57 issued under the signature of the Army's chief of staff July 19th, 1951 directs commanders to encourage qualified army personnel to try out for the Games.

It appears as if the U. S. Equestrian Team under the able chairmanship of Spencer Weed and the Presidency of Colonel John W. Wofford has hit its stride. General Boye at his headquarters in Washington reports women riders are being accepted for Prix des Nations jumping, in case the committee decides to accept them but this acceptance is still matter for conjecture. Also matter for conjecture are the funds necessary to complete the work and send the team on its way. In some districts the contributions have been excellent, in others "foul". More money is going to be needed and horsemen will not only have to scratch their heads but reach into their pockets if all this preparation is to bear fruit.

Letters To The Editor

Hounds and the Field

Dear Sir:

With the exception of the hunting countries of maybe a couple of dozen packs in Northern Va., Maryland and Penna., most of the American packs are not hunting under ideal conditions. As a result the members of the Field do not find foxhunting a way of life but merely a diversion for perhaps only a Saturday afternoon. An unfortunate but nevertheless logical conclusion is that they want to have a quick ride over fences and not having the time or knowledge to learn about hounds they don't pretend to do more than hunt to ride.

Hunting knowledge cannot be forced down their throats by herding them into a classroom and making them read hunting books, or running conducted tours of the kennels but you can, with the Chronicle, continuously expose them to articles and editorials about hounds and the art of hunting them. I think the result would be that at least a percentage might begin to take some interest and the future of foxhunting made more secure. I have talked to Masters and hunting people about this up and down the country and they all cry the same story, people want to come for a quick drag and then go on about other things. Huntsmen who would like to hunt a fox say that the members of the Field are not interested, that all they want is a gallop. Time and again huntsmen have told me, even in your part of the world, that very few members ever visit the kennels. I think it is a very serious condition and for the good of the sport we must do all we can to collect it.

The only ways I know to do it are to encourage members to walk puppies, to encourage puppy shows, to encourage rather than permit members to come out cubbing, to encourage members to visit at the kennels, to talk with the huntsman, to go along with hounds at exercise, and to explain why certain bitches are chosen to be bred, etc. Large Hunt Committees consisting of most of the regular hunting members give them a chance to hear, at regular meetings, why what is being done is being done. All these and other ideas must be promoted if the Masters of hounds are going to hope for real support from their Field.

I've taken a lot of words to say just keep on talking about hounds in The Chronicle. Give it to them over and over again until some at least will get curious and say to themselves that maybe they would look into this hound side of hunting.

Yours sincerely

George Cole Scott

Back To the Horse

Dear Sir:

With reference to your editorial in your August 10 issue, it certainly is timely and to the point.

This writer was in Belgium when the Germans invaded that country and noted, that although the papers played up the motorized Panzer advance, all troops following them depended to a great extent upon horse drawn transport. There was a great deal of horse cavalry and horse drawn field artillery right behind the fast moving forward elements of the German Army.

The writer's father Major General John A. Crane was in command of Allied Artillery in Italy in World War II and states that the work of the artillery would have been even more effective and efficient had there been organized pack outfits to supply the forward elements, which were often difficult to reach due to poor roads and rough terrain.

Several years ago the writer did an article for The Horse on the subject of the use of horses by our armed forces. One of the points brought out in the article was that teaching the average American to drive a truck takes only a few minutes, as most of our people know how to drive cars. But teaching men to handle horses takes time. Now that all of our road traffic is motorized and many of our farms mechanized, there are few Americans with horse and mule handling experience. We need a nucleus of trained men and women to teach others should the need arise the art of handling riding, draft and pack animals. Your reference to putting R. O. T. C. units back on a horse drawn basis is very sound. Those students would learn what they need to know and would be qualified to teach others.

Very truly

ROSE JET WINS SCHUYLerville STAKES. In the paddock the people crowded around Brae Burn Farm's Star-Enfin and J. W. Schiffer's Cigar Maid prior to the running of the Schuylerville on Aug. 15. As the big field of 12 fillies went postward, Maine Chance Farm's Rose Jet still didn't attract too much attention. When the fillies went away from the starting gates, Jockey E. Guerin sent her into the limelight and for the remainder of the race, it was Rose Jet. She came on to win by 3 lengths ahead of Star-Enfin, J. C. Brady's Landmark taking care of the show position. Attendance and Betting Increases For First Half of Saratoga's Meeting Over Last Year

Joe H. Palmer

To put the statistics first, at the end of the first half of its 24 day meeting, Saratoga had had 174,536 customers, including the largest crowd—24,897—in the history of the track, as against 151,597 last year, and the betting was $9,747,417, as opposed to last year's 7,964,121. The directorate was—figuratively, I assure you—dancing on the lawn with elm leaves in its hair. This, you may remember, was the year when nobody was coming to Saratoga because the gambling spots had been closed. It's like the man said about the tourist trap down in Greenwich Village, "nobody goes there any more. It's too crowded."

The past week-end was remarkable in that it upset nothing. Hall of Fame was expected to win the American Derby and he won it. Battlefield was 1 to 5 for the Travers and Cousin was 2 to 5 in the Saratoga Special, and they both won. But the divisional championships are still left open. Cousin has to beat Jet Master to rank the Eastern 2-year-olds, and Battlefield will have to avenge his Classic defeat before he has any clear claim over Hall of Fame.

Battlefield, whose record for consistency (6 firsts, 5 seconds, in 11 starts) cannot be matched this year, could have won the Travers at any stage, and in fact tried to go up with 6 furlongs to go. Arcaro prevented this, and tried to hold him even at the stretch turn, because the horse runs better from just off the pace. Battlefield went up anyway, and though his margin at the end was only three-fourths of a length, he seems to be the sort of horse which will not extend himself much when he's in front. Almost any sort of horse can run close to him, and then will go off, as Alerted did, and get beat by inferior horses. Battlefield has $149,300 for the year now, and $437,977 in all.

Cousin, by the French-bred *Priam II, has now won five straight, after losing his first start. He has a habit of drifting out through the stretch, but his trainer, Bill Winfrey, insists there is no physical reason for this. In the Special he had no trouble, and like Battlefield won under a hand ride. As you must know, Alfred Vanderbilt paid $20,000 to Coldstream Stud for him, has now won nearly $40,000.

August 15 was evidently not a good date for leading 2-year-old fillies, for on that date Princess Lygia, which I had been assured could beat Man o'War on his best day, lost the Princess Pat Stakes at Washington Park, and Star-Enfin considered the best in the East, was beaten at Saratoga in the Schuylerville.

Star-Enfin perhaps had some excuses. Arcaro reported afterward that she was trying to get out all the way, and that when she moved through inside some horses into the stretch she stayed in only because there was no way for her to get out. In addition, she was giving the winner, Rose Jet, 7 pounds, though this is hardly adequate to excuse a 3-length defeat.

Mrs. Elizabeth Graham, who bred both the winner and the runner-up, must have had unusual comfort out of the result, not to say anything of the $8,375. As was reported here earlier, she had insisted that George Strate dispose of Star-Enfin in Florida, despite the trainer's insistence that the filly showed unusual ability. He disposed of her as far as Mrs. Graham was concerned, but not personally, because he sold her to the Brae Burn Farm (Frank Heller, Benjamin O'Shea, and James O' McCue), for which he trains. As Star-Enfin went from one victory to another, it looked as if Mrs. Graham had tossed away, for a reported $7,500, the best filly of her division. When she won the Schuylerville with Rose Jet this looked a little more doubtful.

Rose Jet, like the leading 2-year-old colt, Jet Master, is by Maine Chance's Derby winner, Jet Pilot, whose first crop of foals is giving him an excellent stud reputation. She'd run only twice before, winning once, and she was the first stakes success for the stable's 29th trainer, William Booth.

Elkridge, Kent Miller's leading money-winning steeplechaser, went out for the North American Steeplechase in the deepest sort of going and came back a spent and weary last. Miller, who also trains the 13-year-old gelding, has said that when the old jumper is through racing, he will be kept with the stable as a pony, since he hates to be left at home and is something of a stable pet—gets a sweet roll or some sort of pastry brought to him every morning after his handlers return from breakfast.

The guess here, made with all possible friendliness for Elkridge and his owner-trainer, is that he ought to begin being a pony. For one round of the field he kept up, and then he stopped hopelessly, finishing last of the 5 which stood up. The charts have him beaten 55 lengths, which is charitable, for the actual distance was almost three sixteenths of a mile. He can still jump, but he can't run, and I'd hate to see anything happen to him.

The winner, oddly enough, and particularly so if this does prove to be Elkridge's last race, was his half-brother, Mrs. Esther du Pont Weir's Cherwell. Like Elkridge, he was bred in Maryland by Joe Flanagan, from the old Bradley mare Best by Test, which has also produced steeplechase stakes winners in Chesapeake and Kennebunk, and there's another mare which has foaled four steeplechase stakes winners. I don't know about it. Best by Test foaled in 1931, has had other winners on the flat, too.

Cherwell, which had been no earthly good on the flat in his 2 seasons of it, was foaled in 1947 after Elkridge was already a leading steeplechaser. It was his first stakes victory, and it would be a strange coincidence if he picked up just as his half-brother's star faded. The career of Elkridge already has one coincidence in it. The horse he displaced as leading money-winning jumper was old Jolly Roger, and he did it on July 2, 1948. The next day Jolly Roger died at Greentree.

North American Steeplechase Handicap

Mrs. Esther duPont Weir's Cherwell Is 15-Length Winner Over Lone Fisherman

Spectator

The North American Steeplechase Handicap came up for decision on one of those days when nobody envies a jockey. All morning and through the afternoon, the rain fell in torrents. By post time for the stake, the dirt track was under water from the rail to the middle of the track, and the infield was as heavy as it could get. Nonetheless, 6 answered the bugle call after both Tourist List and Hampton Roads had been scratched.

Four minutes, 48 4-5 seconds after the flag dropped, Mrs. Esther duPont Weir's Cherwell galloped over the finish line, 15 lengths to the fore of Lone Fisherman. It was 10 lengths farther back to Extra Points, while both Spleen and Elkridge were well distanced in 4th and

Jones sent out a real fit horse to win an allowance hurdle race. It was L. W. Jennings, Navy Gun, a recent purchase from Mrs. Marion du Pont Scott. The 6-year-old Battleship—Pavo gelding was ridden by Scott Riles, and was reserved off the fast early pace set by Maryador and Sauchiehall, took the front when these 2 tired, and then staved off a very serious threat from Quiet in the stretch to win by a head. Quiet was ridden by Dooley Adams, who saved ground all the way, got through on the inside at the final turn and just missed the major award in a real game effort. It was 14 lengths back to Snob Tourist while Salemaker and Fonda completed the field. Sauchiehall fell at the next to the last hurdle while

KIPPER MAKES IT TWO STRAIGHT. M. A. Cushman's *Kipper and Jockey F. D. Adams landed over the last jump on Aug. 15 with a slight advantage over S. C. Clark, Jr.'s My Good Man. The advantage was lengthened to 3 lengths at the wire. (Saratoga Photo)

5th places. J. C. Brady's Boom Boom which ran coupled with the winner, was the more highly thought of of the 2, but he dove for the 9th fence and spilled his jockey.

Shortly after the start, Extra points took the front end with Boom Boom closest, while the others were soon strung out, but still in contention for a turn of the field. Approaching the near turn the second time, after Boom Boom had eliminated himself, Elkridge was the first to drop out of the running, merely galloping from that point to the finish. Meanwhile, Extra Points had established a 12 length lead as the field moved down the far side the second time. Cherwell headed the second division with both Spleen and Lone Fisherman close by. Spleen was the next to quit, as Cherwell and Lone Fisherman started to close the gap on the leader, but it was not until the final turn that Cherwell collared Extra Points, and then went on to win easily under the handling of Joe Snyder. Lone Fisherman too, went by Extra Points going to the last fence, but he did not fancy the going any more than the rest of the field except the winner, and was not a serious threat in the closing stages of the race. The time was a little bit more than 40 seconds off the course record and the slowest for the distance in recent years.

Cherwell is a 4-year-old dark bay gelding by *Rhodes Scholar out of Best by Test, which makes him a half brother to Elkridge, and like the latter, was bred by Joseph F. Flanagan. The North American was Cherwell's first stakes victory, but he has accounted for 2 overnight races this year and has just missed in several other races. While Jim Ryan, his trainer, has not had many jumpers in the past few years, he has several in his barn this year which should be regular visitors to the winners circle.

The previous Saturday, Billy well beaten, and Maryador tripped over his rider.

Monday, August 12th brought a field of 10 maidens postward in a mile and a half test over hurdles, and when the official result was posted there was a swelling roar of approval from some sections of the clubhouse for the winner was Happy Hill Farm's 3-year-old, Knock Twice, which paid $55.40. He was ridden by the Irish jockey, Richard Gough, who has ridden in many countries, but who has not had a horse in the winners circle here for some years. He permitted Knock Twice to remain way off the pace for a while, then worked his way forward took the lead coming into the stretch and won going away by 6 lengths. Knock Twice was making his debut over hurdles. He is now trained by J. V. H. Davis, and when Morris Dixon had him, he was started twice at the hunt meetings this year.

The runner-up, Blandystone, is also a 3-year-old, and he too was making his debut over hurdles, and appeared the winner a fence from home but could not seriously threaten in the stretch.

The following day, M. A. Cushman's Escarp led from start to finish to beat a field of cheap platers in a mile and a half test over hurdles. Monterey gained the place, closing some ground in the final stages, but was 4 lengths behind the winner.

On Wednesday, M. A. Cushman's *Kipper scored in a claiming event over brush, and in so doing became the first jumper of the meeting to chalk up a double. Incidentally, Kipper was the fourth win of the meeting for trainer Billy Jones. Adams was in the saddle, and he had difficulty finding racing room at times, in fact had to hold him going around the last turn, but rounding into the stretch, he gained the inside and had no trouble in displacing My Good Man, Trepid and Last Rock in the run to the wire.

The race was run over a soft track, and the time of 4:15 1-5 was hardly phenomenal, but Kipper appeared to be racing back to the good form he showed in other years.

A New Sire From Australia

Tyson Gilpin, John de Blois and Walter Thompson Form Syndicate In Purchasing *Beau Gem Who Will Stand In Virginia

Arnold Shrimpton

Ty Gilpin, master of Kentmere Farm, importer and part-owner of *Orestes, and the dynamic driving power of the Saratoga Sales express, should have been nicknamed Little Jack Horner (at least to his friends). Apart from having his digits in quite a lot of pies, Mr. Gilpin has also demonstrated that he is most adept in plucking financial plums therefrom. His latest extraction is from a far-flung Australian pie (this simile must cease forthwith), and consists of the syndication and importation of *Beau Gem (Helios—French Gem, she by Beau Fils) a stakes winning half-brother to *Royal Gem, who has already preceded him to America.

*Beau Gem is undoubtedly a very choice morsel as a sire prospect, and young Mr. Gilpin has done extremely well to whisk him away from under the very noses of Australian breeders. As bait, I have no doubt that he used tempting figures of "The Yankee Dollar", which, coupled with *Royal Gem's phenomenal success in this country, induced Mr. George Badman, the owner, to sell. *Beau Gem is to stand his first season at Kentmere Farm, and is an addition to the Virginia Stallion Roster that the Old Dominion may well be proud of.

The new arrival is by Helios (Hyperion—Foxy Gal) who was leading sire in 1949-50 with 95 1-2 races won from 37 winners. In 1948-49, he also topped the sire list in the Land Down Under. This fine son of Hyperion first came to Australia in 1942. He had been imported by his owner, Mr. E. A. Underwood of the Warlaby Park Stud, Oaklands Junction, Victoria, with the idea of winning a Melbourne Cup, but an early morning training accident, in which the horse badly fractured his near fore pastern, completely ruined that idea, and he was retired to stud immediately. He was an instantaneous success, and has remained so ever since.

From his first crop to race he got *Beau Gem (the hero of our story) Cellerman and Cronides (all of them stakes winners) while he is also responsible for Carbon Copy (his most famous son) Phoebos, Miss Helios, and Kritiri, all of them stakes and classic winners in their own land. In one of Australia's richest stake races, the W. S. Cox Plate, run at Melbourne, Helios had the distinction of being the sire of the first three horses to finish—Carbon Copy, Phoebos and *Beau Gem.

His sons and daughters have already won the equivalent of $445,000. Even to us in America this is a very respectable figure, while in Australia, where prize money is extremely small compared to ours, it is a fabulous record, which will stand for many a long year.

Australian breeders are convinced that Helios is destined to become a great brood mare sire, and even today, when only his 4th crop has reached the race track, it is practically impossible to purchase a well bred Helios filly. They are all being kept by their breeders as potential brood mares.

As for *Beau Gem's dam, French Gem, she is undoubtedly one of the greatest brood mares anywhere in the world today. The best way to introduce her to you is to recount an anecdote concerning her. When Johnny Longden, that enthusiastic and unofficial goodwill ambassador of American racing, visited Australia last year, he did the job with his customary thoroughness. Master "Shoulders" saw very nearly every stud farm of importance in the Land Down Under, and that, of course, included the famed Warlaby Park Stud, in Victoria. Not to have done so would have been akin to visiting Lexington, Kentucky, and failing to visit Calumet and Spendthrift, for, beside housing two of Australia's finest stallions, Dhotti and Helios, it is also the home of French Gem. She, too, is owned by Mr. George Badman of Adelaide, who is best described as being the Australian edition of our own "Sunny Jim" Fitzsimmons, and who is well known in Australian racing circles for his penchant for "calling a spade a spade", rather than a manual agricultural implement. As French Gem was led out for Johnny Longden, he immediately made an offer for her, and then ducked quickly to avoid the playful clout that George Badman aimed at him. Trying to buy French Gem from her owner would be equivalent to offering Mrs. Wright a price for Citation. As Badman threw his backhand cuff, he said, "Go home and bring me the Empire State Building, the Atom Bomb, and an open check on the United States Treasury, and you can have her—but not for less!"

To really appreciate this Lady Bountiful of brood mares, it is necessary to tell you something of her history. She was sold as a yearling to George Badman for 325 pounds Australian (something under $975 at the present rate of exchange). Her dam was Fission, who was by Valais or Chrysolaus from Hypolyte by Linacre, and it is interesting to note that all of these horses were imported to Australia from England, with the exception of Hypolyte. As a juvenile, French Gem won a couple of good races, and as a 3-year-old, walked off with the Victorian Oaks. She raced for one more season (as a 4-year-old), during which she picked up a couple of mediocre races and was then put to stud. To date she has had nine foals. Only six of them have raced (2 of the other three are, of course, not old enough to do so, while her 3-year-old is being "kept") and all six of them are stake and classic winners in Australia.

1941 Coastal Patrol by Portofino stake winner.

1942 *Royal Gem, by Dhotti stake winner Australia, U. S. sire.

1943 Crown Gem, by Dhotti, stakes winner and best 2-year-old of his year.

1944 *Beau Gem, by Helios, stakes winner, winner of 20 races U. S. sire.

1945 Regal Gem, by Dhotti, stakes winner.

1946 Solar Gem, by Helios, stakes winner.

1947 Grecian Gem, by Helios, unraced 3-year-old filly.

1948 Unnamed colt, by Helios, unraced.

1949 Filly foal, by Masthead, unraced.

To date, her progeny have won approximately $192,000, which is

Colt By *Mahmoud—Forever Yours Highest Priced Yearling; Friday Session Sets New High For Single Session Total

Nancy G. Lee

Wednesday Night

After a day spent looking over the 50 yearlings which would come under Auctioneer George Swinebroad's gavel that evening, the time finally arrived for the Wednesday night sales. The featured consignment was that of the Estate of Samuel D. Riddle and those yearlings got in some early training to go a distance as they were led in and out of their stalls all day long. Prospective buyers were looking them over carefully and just "lookers" had an opportunity to see youngsters which ordinarily wouldn't have been under inspection until they went postward for the late Mr. Riddle.

Following the awfully slow bidding of opening night, there wasn't too much change in tempo until the brown colt by Bimelech—Our Colors, by Man o'War (Riddle Estate) came into the ring. Even then they asked for opening bid of $5,000 or even $3,000 wasn't taken up and the colt was started off at $2,000. Then the spotter, Auctioneer Swinebroad and Humphrey Finney were kept busy as they acknowledged the rapid speed at which the bids came in. The colt went to Mrs. C. Oliver Iselin whose bid was $18,500.

This wasn't to be the top price of the evening but it did make one feel as though there would be more and better bids before the final sale was made. This proved to be the case when the chestnut colt by *Blenheim II—War Damsel, by Man o'War was brought in. With an opening bid of $3,000, the bidding was fast and with the final figure of $25,000, this colt became a stablemate of the Horse of the Year in 1950, Hill Prince. C. T. Chenery's slight nod of his head kept his bids rising until the top figure was reached. Mrs. F. F. Fiorita's bid of $13,500 made the brown filly by War Admiral—Song, by *Royal Minstrel the top priced one among the fillies. The fact that the filly had a badly cut tongue did not detract as the veterinarian's certificate was to the effect that she was recovering rapidly.

Mulholland Bros., who were consigning to Saratoga for the first time this year, topped the other consignments for the top priced yearling. A brown colt by The Doge—Miss Courtesy, by Jean Valjean went to Mrs. S. C. Clark, Jr. for $10,000. Rumor had it that R. N. Webster, who owns a 3-4 brother to this colt, Bootlegger, wanted to buy the youngster but Mrs. Clark's bid was the successful one.

When the final figures were added, the 50 yearlings had sold for $302,200, averaging $6,044.

Thursday Night

There were 43 yearlings to be sold and activities were soon underway and the sales arena was soon filled almost to capacity. As the results soon showed, the seventh yearling to come into the ring was to be the top priced individual of the evening. Opening at $5,000, the brown colt by Eight Thirty—Lotus Flower, by Whichone, consigned by North Cliff Farm, brought out fast and furious bidding until the pace slowed down somewhat around $20,000, the final figure being $23,000 bid by George M. Humphrey.

Everyone was interested in Steeplechase Trainer J. T. Skinner's first consignment to Saratoga which included the only colt from Stymlie's first crop to be sold. A brown colt out of Pinch, by *Sickle, his merits were set forth by Humphrey Finney, after which an enthusiastic spectator clapped her hands at the mention of Stymlie. Bidding got off with a rush at $5,000 but when the price had reached $12,000 it appeared as though that was it. Finally that was raised to $12,200 and a final bid of $12,500 by Hirsh Jacobs for the Bieber-Jacobs Stables was the finale.

Nydrle Stud's 11 yearlings brought $82,300, averaging $7,481. Mrs. F. F. Fiorita was again successful for a top youngster for her High Ground Stable as she paid $19,500 for a bay colt by Polynesian—Broad Ripple, by Stimulus. While Nydrle had some other good prices, they had an eye-catcher in their chestnut colt by *Hieorcles—Nult Noire, by *Bull Dog. With a cream mane and tail, plus a blaze face, 3 white socks and white below the ankle on the other leg, the decidedly different markings called attention to him. He added $6,100 to the coffers when Addison Stable turned out to be the new owner.

In 1949 Dr. F. P. Miller consigned a bay colt by Count Fleet—Delmarie, by Pompey and he was brought by J. J. Amiel for $3,700, and his name, Count Turf. This year Dr. Miller had a dark bay colt by Eternal Bull—Delmarie and Mr. Amiel was right there on the job as a bidder. This time he had to go to $17,000, which price was topped in Dr. Miller's consignment only by a chestnut colt by Pavot—Copper Jade, by Jamestown. This individual was bought by William G. Loew.

The night's sales had a more serious side when the Nydrie Stud's bay filly by By Jimmy—Stimminie, by Stimulus was sold for $4,200. All efforts to locate the buyer failed so the filly was brought back into the ring. Auctioneer Swinebroad asked if the bidder who bid $4,000 was willing to renew the bid and this was done immediately. No other bids followed and Mrs. A. Q. McKean was the new owner.

Friday Night

Knight's Night really tests the seating capacity around the sales ring. There wasn't too much trouble in getting everyone seated and the complete results of H. H. Knight's sales were quickly available as his complete consignment was sold and then the entire consignment of L. S. MacPhail's Glenangus Farms. These were the only two which were handled in this manner.

The yearlings had literally worn a path in front of their various stalls as they had been led in and out for days. There were still people who didn't see them and as each one was led in, people leaned forward for a better look. When the figures were added at the conclusion of the sales of the two consignments, Humphrey Finney announced that the total of $479,100, averaging $19,981 for the 48 yearlings sold, was the highest realized at a single session since Fasig-Tipton took over in 1917 and topped the previous high established when Col. P. T. Chinn dispersed Himyar Stud in 1929.

A chestnut colt by "Mahmoud—Forever Yours, by Toro (the mare being one individual which is not for sale at Almahurst Farm) really started the figures flying. Reaching $25,000 the bidding settled down to a duel between I. J. Collins and Charles G. Raible. The final figure reached and the highest price for the week's sales was $34,000, the bid of Mr. Collins.

William G. Loew watched his 3-year-old bay colt Mallow, by Chaldon—Nordresa, by Lovelace leave the maiden ranks in the 5th race on Friday afternoon. That evening "Nordresa was represented in the sales ring by a dark bay filly by "Shannon and for this yearling Mr. Loew went to $33,000 before being successful as high bidder. This was the top price paid for a filly during this session.

Larry S. MacPhail is a comparative new comer to the breeder ranks but has continued to improve his consignment. This year his Glenangus Farms was represented by 15 yearlings and his sale was topped by a chestnut filly by Polynesian—Mint Royal, by "Royal Minstrel. Daniel Van Cliff, bidding for Nydrie Stud, went to $15,000 for this miss. J. M. Roebing paid $13,000 for a bay colt by Spy Song—Phara Frost, by "Pharamond II while Bayard Sharp paid a like amount for the bay colt by Occupy—Boomtoun Gal, by Stimulus.

an impressive figure to us in America, while in Australia it is something of a national record which will take many a year to beat.

As for "Beau Gem himself, his race record is top-flight; out of 64 starts, he has had 20 wins, 15 seconds, and 10 thirds, which, in five seasons' campaigning, stamps him as being a great race horse. Here is his record in detail:

Age	Starts	1st	2nd	3rd	Unplaced
2	8	3	4	1	0
3	12	7	2	1	2
4	15	4	3	3	5
5	18	4	4	4	6
6	11	2	2	1	6

"Beau Gem's best race was undoubtedly the Victoria Derby which he won in 1947 as a 3-year-old. He carried the standard Australian weight for his age, 122 pounds, and won by a head in a track record time of 2:30 1-2, which time still stands to this very day. In doing so, he clipped 3-4 of a second from the existing record for the distance that was held jointly by Phar Lap, Half Mark, Feldspar, and Precept, all of them great Australian stakes winners. In winning, he defeated the acknowledged 2-year-old champion of the previous season, Chanak, by a head, while both of them were 5 lengths ahead of the rest of the field. Just to show that it was no fluke either, "Beau Gem shortly thereafter came out in the Nonning Handicap over 7 1-2 furlongs, in which race he carried the back crusher of 148 pounds and won by 10 lengths, again in track record time of 1:32 1-2. He finished up that year by returning to his home state of South Australia and annexing the South Australia St. Leger over 1 3-4 miles. In fact, he was a winner at all distances from 5-8 miles to 1 3-4 miles, taking all track conditions in his giant stride. He won both the Underwood Stakes over 1 1-8 miles, and the Adelaide Anniversary Stakes over 1 1-16 miles, two years in succession. His track career terminated late in 1950 when he strained a ligament and was taken out of training.

He was purchased a few weeks ago by an American syndicate consisting of Mr. John de Blois Wack of Santa Barbara, Walter Thompson of Los Angeles, and the Gilpin family of Boyce, Virginia. The amount paid has not been disclosed and the horse's stud fee in this country has not yet been decided upon, but it may be assumed that it will be competitive with other Virginia stallions.

There is no doubt that "Beau Gem

Arcave Tops Horses In Training Sale Held At Saratoga

The Fasig-Tipton sales arena at Saratoga was a busy spot again on the morning of August 18. With the sale of yearlings through for the week, 24 horses in training were brought out to be sold. Topping the consignments was that of Sylvester Labrot, Jr. who is retiring from the racing scene.

Mr. Labrot's Arcave, a 4-year-old brown gelding by Discovery—Trina, by "Sickle, brought the highest bid. T. M. Waller, acting as agent for an undisclosed client, paid $16,500 for the gelding. B. F. Christmas went to $9,500 to obtain Taran, a half-brother to Arcave.

constitutes a real sire prospect in this country, since American breeders have already demonstrated that they are completely sold on his half-brother "Royal Gem. At the Keeneland Sales 9 "Royal Gem yearlings (7 colts and 2 fillies) fetched a total of $73,800 for an average of $8,200 apiece. Subject to the usual stress and strain of the breeding industry, there is no reason why "Beau Gem should not be equally successful. He comes to us with every recommendation. His temperament is ideal, his looks are ideal, his pedigree carries all that can be asked for, AND his racing record is that of a stakes winning grandson of the great Hyperion. WEEKLY NEWS

SHOW CIRCUITS

Blowing Rock

Show secretaries and managers who suffer from the current malady of unhappy exhibitors, poor attendance and weak entries, should rush to Blowing Rock to take a refresher course from Lloyd Tate, who has run the show there for the past 28 years.

Following the old-fashioned precept that people show horses for fun and relaxation, Mr. Tate and his alert committee have allowed plenty of time for classes; have arranged sumptuous parties and so have engendered a happy spirit missing from most of the recent larger shows.

Blarney Castle, a grand moving Irish 4-year-old heavyweight, from Starland Stables, nosed out Mr. and Mrs. Billy Tate's beautiful lightweight, Red Money for hunter honors.

Spunky Fisher, who never ceases to amaze the spectators and fellow horsemen, needed to be an octopus to hold reins, ribbons, trophy and checks as he left the ring after the jumper stake.

Although no official horsemanship award was made, little Miss Louise Coker, sister of Rick Coker who supplied much of the open jumper competition for the above mentioned Spunky until his studies at prep school grounded him, was outstanding among the equitation riders.

Bull Run Hunt

The annually successful Bull Run Hunt Club Horse Show was the place where Miss Cherrie McKee's seldom seen Crackerjack made a sensational triumph in the open jumper ranks to annex the tri-color. Ridden by Gardner Hallman, the son of Bonne Nait garnered 11 1-2 points.

Mrs. William Dillon's April Dawn and Tommy Jones' Little Moon tied for reserve jumper honors with 6 points. However, April Dawn moved into the notch after the jump off.

Hunter champion was Manly Carter's Ginger with 12 1-2 points. A 3-way tie resulted for the reserve spot. Tied with 5 points each were Manly Carter's Your Beau, Mrs. Robert Burke's Dixie Passes and Miss Jean Cochrane's Tempting Fox. Based on conformation, the judges' nod went to Tempting Fox.

There was not a tri-color for the ponies but Miss Penny Armstrong's Pinocchio won both small pony events while Miss Laura Shreve's Popsicle and Miss Jacqueline Bragg's Chick-a-Linda turned in fine rounds in the large pony ranks.

Lakeville

The Lakeville Horse Show has a beautiful ring and a very nice outside course. Over the outside courses in the working classes, Frank Chapot's grey Chado, ridden by his owner, and Wee-3 Stable's Festive Fire ridden by Mr. and Mrs. Dave Kelley battled out the points right up through the preliminary. Both of these bold jumping horses went very well, but Chado out hacked the chestnut horse to be pinned 1st in the preliminary, giving him the tri-color with Festive Fire in for reserve.

Another championship went to the tack room of Mrs. Charles Govern. Pocket Mouse, ridden by Miss Blanche Clark, was champion of the conformation division with reserve going to Mrs. E. O. Clark's Thunderlark, ridden by Raymond Burr.

Open classes brought out a number of good horses. From these ranks the champion emerged in Fred Blum's On Leave as Mrs. Albert Merkel's Why Worry Again was reserve.

Lean 2 Stables

Block clouds on show day of the 5th annual Lean 2 Stables Horse Show caused considerable grief to the show committee. The situation somewhat reversed when Tom Trot's big gelding, Black Cloud, with Miss Gloria De Lorne up, dish-out the grief to the rest of the jumping fraternity by picking up 2 blues and a 4th.

Winston, that great chestnut from Twin City Buick Stables, ridden by Miss Elizabeth Ginter, annexed the stables' first leg on the Orchard Downs Challenge Trophy for working hunters. Miss Ginter was also busy riding stablemate Beau Val and Charles Bassett's Koramout.

The excellent outside course added to its list of casualties—Jimmy Forman on Bright Lad and Harry Swan on Air Patrol, both coming to earth at the in and out. While the committee said it could not be done—Lary Carney on Irish Royalty tipped a large and very heavy chicken coop, Larry landing on his feet running like an Olympic track star.

Metamora PHA

It was a great day for the grays at Metamora when the Southern Michigan Chapter of the Professional Horseman's Assn. held its second annual show. Green Valley Glen, the white-gray mare belonging to Mrs. Wilson W. Mills and ridden by Dr. David Loewith, carried off the championship. The reserve went to ex-M. F. H.'s William R. Clark's big gray gelding, Tweedledum. Then these rivals teamed up with Mrs. Graham J. Graham's Country Gentleman to make a gray sweep of the hunt teams.

Minneapolis Saddle and Bridle Club

The Minneapolis Saddle and Bridle Club Horse Show was held at Hennepin County Fair Grounds with two matinees and an evening performance. Minnesota had the worst storm in history the night before the show, yet due to the efforts of the two chairmen, Anthony Gasser and Jack Weston, and their capable committee, the ring was in excellent shape. Nary a horse blew away during the storm so they started right on schedule although many an exhibitor and spectator had to chop away trees to get there.

A championship award was not given, but the Tri State Horsemen Assn., of Minnesota filed the results of each class and at the Minnesota State Fair, they will award a trophy to the hunter having the most winning points in the local summer shows.

New hunters are always good for horse show ranks. Miss Betty Gardner has a lovely new chestnut mare which she brought from Mrs. Blackwood. Jockerita and Miss Jo—Jo iors. There classes are usually held on Saturday morning and this year the hunter events were held then but the junior jumper class was held Friday. Little Miss Sue Coker and her horse, Reward, seemed not a bit bothered by the 4'-0" jumps in the jump off and scored a 99 to win. Sue is one of the youngest and tiniest riders we've ever seen shown anywhere. Sue also came in 2nd to her older sister Terry Jo who won the equitation class with her usual smooth performance. A newcomer to the show group, Miss Mary Kay McFarland entered the winner's circle riding her Slipalong in handy hunters.

The jumper classes were quite tough which occasioned a great deal of forceful riding but there were no spills. Kangaroo, owned by Miss Mary L. Smith and ridden by Rocky Walker won the knock-down-and-out and the Jumper Stake, in which event he was ridden by his owner, who had recovered sufficiently from a bad cold. The open class was won by Miss Joan Lander on her newly acquired Melrose. This was their first show as an owner-rider combination.

P.H.A. E.N.E. Chapter

At the Professional Horsemen's Assn., E. N. E. Chapter show, Wee-3-Stables took home another tri-color with their Peper P in the working ranks. Reserve was Miss Sheila Flynn's Padraig, ridden by his owner.

Fred Blum's open jumpers ruled the roost in that division, his Prince River annexing the jumper award ahead of stablemate, On Leave.

No horsemanship championship was offered at this show but prominent winners were Victor Hugo-Vidal, Jr., Miss Cynthia Hoyt and Miss Susan Lounsbury.

Purcellville Pony

Miss Laura Lee Shreve's flashy hunting pony, Popsicle, effortlessly carried off the large pony championship at the Purcellville Pony Show. Reserve in this division went to Miss Nancy Orme's consistent Brownie with 13 points.

In the small ranks, Miss Beverly Harrison's Bigger Bit was acclaimed the champ with 12 1-2 points while Miss Bobbie Gardner's Popcorn was reserve with 7 points.

A comparative newcomer to the show ranks, Philip Shiner, had his Kitty R. in the top bracket for the junior award. Reserve honors went to Miss Caroline Evans' Short Circuit.

Rolling Rock Hunt Horse and Breeders

Mrs. Simon T. Patterson's Bond Drive, ridden by Mrs. Sherwood C. Martin and Dan Lenehan, was pinned hunter champion at the Rolling Rock Horse Show and Breeders Show. Reserve was General R. K. Mellon's 'White Coat, capably piloted by George Clement. A greatly improved horse over last year. 'White Coat turned in the trip of the day to gain a leg on the Huntland Downs Challenge Cup for amateurs or owner-riders.

A recruit from the hunt meetings, Mrs. Henry J. Stringer, Jr.'s racy looking brown 3-year-old Admiral Tan, is by War Admiral—Eventan, by Equipoise. Admiral Tan carries quality in every line and won a good in hand class.

Dan Lenehan had George Gable's grey colt, Giniper, going like a veteran to annex both the green classes. This colt has a mannerly, consistent way of going that should keep him well up in the ranks of show ring youngsters.

Westminster

The Westminster Horse and Pony show on August 11 and 12th had one very unwelcome exhibitor, that was rain, and believe me, several times on Sunday he had the ring all to himself as exhibitors and judges made for shelter. The first day was devoted to the pony and junior classes, while the second took care of the hunter and jumper classes.

The "darling" of the show, was Bright Eyes and Eileen Smith. The former is a 4-year-old 14.3 brown and white horse, which puts in tremendous leaps and appears to be the type that would do or die trying. Bright Eyes is sure to have a lot of followers when he hits the indoor shows and will offer Golden Chance a lot of competition both over jumps and in a popularity poll. Eileen Smith was most "attractively" attired in a green plaid rain hat which greatly resembled an inverted half watermelon, and a plastic type rain coat, which did it's best to resemble the sail of a clipper ship. That watermelon hat must have been nailed down as no matter how high or wide Bright Eyes leaped, it stayed tight.

Footing in the ring was fetlock deep and very slippery, and by the time the working hunter class came along many rounds were either chancy or too slow. Nancy DiPaula on Long Socks (a real hunting hunter) put in a very workmanlike round to take the blue.

All the blues in the hunter and jumper classes went to the Linky Smith show string with the exception of the green hunter class, which was won by King Virgil, with his owner aboard, in perhaps the best round of the day. This same horse carried Pat Clark to good wins in the junior division and if there had been a junior championship awarded, it would have gone to her.

Williamsport

The 8th annual Williamsport Kiwanis Charity Horse Show was held in the lovely setting of the foothills of the Bald Eagle mountains.

Mrs. Hugh Barclay's fine string was well represented and surely showed their undisputed ability to win championships. Her Quaker Bonnet and Timber Jack won both spots in the young hunter division while Quaker Bonnet and Jane took care of the conformation ranks.

The Ted Baldwin family had quite a show. In the ladies' working hunter class, Betty Jane rode 4 horses to annex the 4 ribbons, her Brandywine taking top honors. Just to add the final laurels, Brandywine garnered the working hunter tri-color ahead of James McKinnon's Tarad. Mr. Baldwin is the person who raised and trained both Brandywine and Tarad.

One of the best events of the show for spectators was the scurry jumper. With Pat Dixon up, Millarden Farms' Injun Joe ran and jumped to capture the blue. Stablemate Hellzapoppin went on to be pinned jumper champion with Mrs. Barclay's Noel reserve.

Windolph Farms Summer

Windolph Farms first summer horse show was put on by the C.R. Windolphs in their fine indoor ring. This event was fun for exhibitors and spectators alike. Everything was a post entry and the ring itself, built of rough logs and very rustic in appearance, added to the feeling of informality.

Most of Oregon's top hunters and jumpers, as well as several green ones which are making their first showing this summer, were on hand.

SARATOGA SCENE

The Bayard Sharps and Mrs. Nicholas duPont flew up from Wilmington, Dela. on the 14th and planned to return the same day. Weather prevented their returning and on Thursday, with a commercial pilot on hand from Wilmington, they took off between the heavy rains. J. E. Cooper, secretary of the National Steeplechase and Hunt Association, keeps complete records on falls and lost riders between the flags. Now he will have to keep another set of records. Heading for the secretary's office during the storm on the 16th, he wasn't properly shod for the muddy going and when he tried to jump a puddle he came a cropper. He is on the casualty list with a sore back and a twisted ankle and no doubt will be on the steward's list until he proves his ability as a mud runner.

Wednesday night the yearlings from the Estate of Samuel D. Riddle were commanding very good prices but evidently the chestnut filly by *Heliopolis—Big Beauty, by Man o'War didn't like the set up. She kicked the horses in Training sign with a resounding whack but she didn't jar the auctioneer's platform and Humphrey Finney too much as Finney was the high bidder for her at $12,200.

For the first time in the 27 years Nydrie Stud has been consigning yearlings to Saratoga, there was a reserve bid placed on one of its colts. A chestnut colt by Some Chance—My Risk, by Campfire had an enlarged thyroid gland and a reserve bid was made of $4,500. With a veterinarian's certificate, the colt went for $4,800 to M. F. Drinkhouse. Humphrey Finney had the job of calling attention to any simple or serious defects present in the yearlings. When the brown colt by Our Boots—Angelus Tempo, by *Pharamond II, consigned by North Cliff Farm, came into the ring, it was announced that he had shown a tendency to crib while at the farm but that there had been no inclination of it since he had arrived at Saratoga. Evidently he had put on his company manners and George Nichols bought him for $3,800.

Max Hirsch selected the chestnut filly by Pavot—Bounteous, by *Sickle as the champion yearling of the 5th annual show of the Thoroughbred Breeder's Assn. of New Jersey. This miss was in the consignment of Meadowview Farms, Inc. and brought the top price for their lot. When her price lagged a bit at $5,000, Auctioneer George Swinebroad said, "I think we had better look at this filly; there is a little thieving going on in the house." After a slight pause the bidding was resumed and William Post paid $7,000 for the yearling. Someone's bid of $7,200 came just seconds too late.

SARATOGA

There is no congestion in the paddock at Saratoga as the long, green expanse extends over enough ground to make plenty of room for horses, trainers, riders, owners and spectators. Add to this the unlimited shade from the huge trees and it is a delightful place to be. It takes a while to find out which tree belongs to which trainer and this runs into a lot of walking, but after watching horses being saddled in small areas, being able to watch without the feeling of being in a 5 o'clock subway crowd is pleasant. Signs and more signs announce to one and all that the yearling sales are in progress and there is no excuse for anyone missing any particular yearling. Every barn is marked clearly and the breeding stands out on each stall door. No doubt the groomers would like to be able to tell at a glance which is a prospective buyer and which is an onlooker but the manner in which the yearlings are led out is always the same.

It is almost impossible to realize that there are so many horses and so many different type horses stabled at Saratoga. Get up early in the morning and watch George Widener's Battlefield, or stroll over to C. T. Chenery's barn and there is "Casey" Hayes giving Hill Prince the once over. Hill Prince has now grown a full length tail and his quiet, slightly lazy manner around the barn gives no indication of the speed which he possesses on the flat. A character around another stable is the lead pony. This individual possesses the finest pair of glass eyes and as one passes by, he nickers hopefully. All it takes to satisfy him is a lump of sugar, or better still, two lumps. His companion is a white goat which crops the grass alongside while his partner begs sugar.

The track was really deep last Friday morning but apparently almost everyone was out. Up at an early hour was Trainer J. T. Skinner who was ponying a horse and Trainer Morris H. Dixon who was riding ahead of a set headed for the Oklahoma track. Trainer Kay Jensen followed quite an impressive set from his stable, every boy having on a red sweater with Apheim Stable lettered on the back. Getting on over to Oklahoma, where many of the ranks are to be found, Dr. John Lee was busy ponying a couple of horses while Miss Betty Bosley was schooling over hurdles in the infield. Also schooling a couple of turns of the course was Mrs. Beverly Bryant on her Silver Duck which is planning a come-back before too long over brush.

There must be a time when F. S. von Stade, president of The Saratoga Association, isn't around the track. However, there are four days during which he was seen at the clubhouse, in the paddock, and at the yearling sales in the evening; this plus being out during the morning hours.

A. P. "Paddy" Smithwick was back on the job after a bout with pneumonia. The steeplechasers were supposed to school on the 16th but rain postponed that event. That afternoon the North American "Chase" Cap was run in a heavy rain but no event was scheduled over the infield course on Friday.

A young miss captivated the crowd at the Friday session of the yearling sales. With only 3 more yearlings to sell, quite a few of the people had left when the chestnut filly by Discovery—Shining Eyes, by High Strung came in, there were still bidders on hand for this part of the Glenangus Farm consignment. Bids finally narrowed down to two persons, one of them the young lady who couldn't have been over 12 years old. With all the savoir faire in the world, she nodded her head as the bid went to $10,000. With both Swinebroad and Finney asking for a higher bid, she consulted the person with her, raised the bid and sat back. Finally the bid stood at $11,600. Following much consultation, she looked at Auctioneer Swinebroad and slowly shook her head. His pleas were to no avail, she made up her mind. Mrs. Robert L. Gerry was the successful bidder.

A BARGAIN

New Pin, the dam of Cochise and South Dakota, is reported in foal to Count Fleet. This is quite a Cinderella story of horsemanship, for just 3 years ago, in the 1948 Keeneland Fall Sale, she was sold for $2,700 to Frank Conklin, the well known Canadian breeder, who maintains a number of mares here in the blue grass. —R. S.

ALL 'ROUND VERSATILITY

One of the most versatile establishments in the sporting picture is that of Dr. and Mrs. A. C. Randolph of Upperville, Va. who operate two breeding establishments one at Grafton, Dr. Randolph's old home place and one at Halfway at The Plains under Mrs. Randolph's name. Dr. Randolph as M. F. H. of the Piedmont hunts one of the finest grass countries in the United States. Both he and Mrs. Randolph are breeding their own hunters to carry on this side of their activities.

This summer Mrs. Randolph has been actively campaigning in the show ring with an excellent 4-year-old green hunter Blue Ghost. He comes by his jumping abilities naturally as he is by the late Dr. L. M. Allen's Spanish Ghost out of Song Blue the dam of the successful timber horse Clifton's Dan, also an Allen product. Blue Ghost won green hunter championship honors at Allentown and York Shows and reserve at Culpeper. A yearling by Jack High out of a Fairway mare Valdina Zura, carried off yearling first honors at the Carter Hall Show while a broodmare of Mrs. Randolph's by Chance Play out of Spolt Beauty, by High Time was awarded first place in the recent Virginia Breeders' Show as best hunter type broodmare and 2nd as best racing type broodmare. Added to the showing and hunting division at Halfway and Grafton and the Thoroughbred breeding activities where two stallions Black Gang and Ginobl stand is a considerable racing division that this year produced the winners Home Bred, Silver Flush and Mahonn on the flat, Uncle Joe over brush and Wenham over hurdles.

Hunting, showing, breeding, flat racing, steeplechasing and hurdling make quite a program but even this is supplemented by Mrs. Randolph with the breeding of top quality Jones terriers, while Dr. Randolph goes in for bird shooting for which he breeds his own bird dogs. Many sporting minded people combine two or maybe three of their various sports, but there are few who actively engage in the whole panorama.

NO DOUBLE CHECK

In the Breeders of Stakes Winners article of Aug. 3, The Chronicle stated that the stakes winning 2-year-old brown filly Cigar Maid was consigned to the Saratoga yearling sales by Jonabell Stables when actually the filly was consigned by Kentmere Farm. Pintor, the record breaking 2-year-old bay colt as having been sent to the sales by Glenangus Farms. This youngster was consigned by the Knollwood Farm of F. W. Janson.

One of these days we will learn to cross check all reference books with the sales catalogue when doing an article of this kind. Easy Mark

DINNER-DANCE

The National Cup Ball Committee sends out invitations to a dinner-dance following the afternoon's racing at Fair Hill, Md. Now sporting a new hunt club which was built after the old Vicmead club burned, the committee is working hard to get more people to come. They make it easy for everyone by making it possible for the person who received an invitation to bring along just as many other persons as he likes. Just so no one will be rushed too much, the hour is set at 7:30 so that when dinner is served around 9:00, even Virginians will have had time to get there.

ABIGAIL

The "Get-Rich-Quick-Wallingford" of Lexington is undoubtedly Doug Davis, Jr., of High Hope Farm. His latest shenanigan was the purchase of the spotted mule, Abigail, from the P. L. Grissom dispersal. He has promptly renamed it Hoikuleez, and plans to ride it in a supporting race on Lexington's Plug Horse Derby Day. On top of this, the Democratic Party of Michigan have agreed to hire the spotted wonder to aid them in the states' gubernatorial race. —R. S.

STILL BLUE

The brood mare, Still Blue (by Blue Larkspur—Be Still, by Dozer) is considered to be one of the most promising of the younger matrons at Calumet Farm. She has had 5 foals to date, of which 3 are good winners. Her yearling filly by Whirlaway has ben entered in the Keeneland Fall Sales by the White Oaks Farm, and is bound to create buyer attention, for she is a full sister to Spur On, and a half-sister to Everbright (winner of five 2-year-old races this season). Still Blue's weanling at side is a beautiful dark bay colt by Bull Lea, which is one of the stars of this year's foals at Calumet. —R. S.

MAKE-WEIGHT

Behind the sale of Princess Lygia to Louis B. Mayer (the amount paid was not disclosed, but it is known to be in excess of $100,000), there is a little vignette that carries the feminine touch. Details of the sale were finally concluded on the day before the Princess Pat Stakes, in which the unbeaten daughter of Roman was due to run. After the final negotiation, Mr. Mayer discovered that he didn't have a set of silks in Chicago, and there was no time to send to California. Upon hearing this, Mrs. H. Trotsek (the seller) agreed to make him a set and throw them into the purchase price as make-weight. —R. S.

TO LATE

Leslie Combs II has many regrets that the Sheridan Handicap was not run a week earlier than August 4. Reason: In that race, Bernwood a son of *Bernborough, one of the Spendthrift Farm stallions, set a track record for 1 mile in 1:33 4-5. Had he done it a few days earlier it would undoubtedly have influenced the selling prices of the *Bernborough yearlings at the Keeneland Summer Sale. As it was, 10 of them passed through the ring for a total of $46,800 showing an average of $4,680 apiece. —R. S.

NEW MANAGER

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Reineman, who are busily engaged getting their Crown Crest Farm into operational order, have employed the services of Al Cofield as farm manager. They could not have made a better choice, for Cofield (formerly of High Hope Farm) is one of the elder generation of horsemen, who is trusted, liked and respected by all Lexington horsemen. —R. S.

TO EUROPE

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Girdler, plan to leave their Paris, Kentucky, for a European vacation almost immediately. On the sea trip over, they will not lack local friends, for they will be traveling with Mrs. Clifford Mooers and her daughter. The Master of Walnut Springs Farm prefers to travel by air, and will meet his family on the other side. —R. S.

Foxhunters' Panelling Parties

Warrenton Builds Up Its Hunting Country Through Aid of the Hunting Field Members With Picnics As Reward For Hard Labor

George Cole Scott

The Warrenton Hunt has hit on a method to improve their country and in a painless manner get the maximum amount of volunteer labor out of subscribers. They call it a Ride Party. We will say they need a ride through a covert for perhaps one or two miles. Cards will go out to everyone setting a time and place for all the men to meet. They will be asked to bring axes, brush hooks, clippers and any other available tools. They may also bring as many grooms, farm laborers and gardeners as they like. The meeting will be at one end of the proposed ride. At the other end the ladies will set up a picnic, complete with bar and trimmings. To keep things going an accordion player is engaged to walk up and down the ride and live things up with songs while the erstwhile foxhunters sling the axe. The rules are, of course, that nobody can reach home plate (the bar) until the ride is finished.

It works like a charm. Nobody minds that kind of job when it is made into a party. Recently forty-nine men turned out, and a couple of hours later, when they reached the ladies, a wide 2 mile ride had been cut.

Warrenton has done some good work of this sort. Many of their larger coverts have rides where two and three horses can go abreast. Often there are four, five or six separate rides cut through a single bit of woods. For pannels they use chicken-coops and post-and-rails. The coops are pre-cut at the kennels and ready to be set up. Sometimes they make the "A" frames ahead of time, and only have to nail on the planks at the location. At other times the whole side of a chicken-coop will be made at the kennels. These can be installed in the field in short order. The latter method is better as it is not necessary to cut the wire. Cutting wire without proper bracing causes loss of tension in the whole fence and sometimes loss of an owner's goodwill. By having most of the work done at the kennels during the men's free time it is surprising how many pannels can be erected in one summer.

Oak planks are used for chicken-coops. They are cheaper than pine and of course have a much longer life. Six inch planks, twelve to fourteen feet long, and two by fours, are all that are required. The material cost of a fourteen foot chicken-coop will run under $10.00 and will last 10 years or more.

Panneling at Warrenton is not a serious matter. By far the larger part of the fences in the country are post-and-rail, plank or stone walls. To stand on top of a hill and look out over the country in any direction is a delight to the eyes of any hunting man. There are very few parts where one cannot ride straight if he has the horse and the heart to do it. If a covert intervenes he will find a ride to get through. This fortunate condition does not exist at a great many American hunts and panneling, along with the hounds ranks high in importance.

Post-and-rail pannels are more attractive to look at, are done in keeping with what one expects or wants to see in a hunting country and are not difficult to build, but they require maintenance that is almost entirely unnecessary in the case of a coop. In countries where wire predominates chicken-coops have remained the favorite. Besides their permanent nature, to be able to set them astride a wire fence without cutting it is an important feature. The easiest of all pannels to construct is a set of draw bars. One man with an axe can do the job in less than an hour and at practically no cost. But draw bars are very dangerous to good landowner relations. They are easy to break down and there is always the possibility that they may be left open. In spite of this hazard, for economic reasons draw bars are used a great deal.

There are three phases to a panneling program: planning where they are needed; seeking landowner permission to build them and the actual construction. The first of these can best be done by the Master or huntsman. Foxes in this country, are quite consistent in their runs. The Master and huntsman are thoroughly familiar with these lines and can select the best places to build the pannels. Regular hunting members can also be useful in this respect, and particularly can contribute by taking care of the pannels on their own land. Seeking permission is often the tricky part of the job. By no means all landowners hunt, and not all are wholeheartedly sympathetic towards hunting. Whenever a panel is built in a line fence there are two owners to be consulted. Tact, consideration of stock and crops and infinite patience is required. One must sometimes hear an entire family history that has no bearing on the problem. After all, a non-hunting farmer holds all the trumps. If he is not thoroughly convinced that no harm will come to his property there is really no reason why he should consent. The reputation which the pack has acquired in the countryside in previous years will be the determining factor. It is this reputation which rests squarely in the hands of every member, whether they are following hounds or just hacking. If anyone does damage which is not promptly reported and repaired the hunt will always be blamed.

Construction of pannels can often be done very satisfactorily by volunteer labor. It takes no time at all to nail together a chicken-coop once the material is on the ground. One system which has been used with success is to place the material at half a dozen locations during the week and on Saturday afternoon

Charles Carver One Of Best Hound Men Of Present Day

Charles Carver died suddenly of a heart attack on the night of August 3rd. He was 73 years old but remained active and in good health until his sudden end, which came in exactly the way he wished to go when the time came.

Charley was born and raised in Virginia in the neighborhood of Rappahannock, and from a child was with hounds. His first professional job was with Joe Thomas, with whom he was for 22 years. Terminating in about 1930 when Mr. Thomas disposed of his hounds. They went all over the country and the best thing about Charley's ability is that he remained with Mr. Thomas for such a long period, because the latter was a perfectionist if anyone ever was.

William du Pont bought a large draft from Mr. Thomas' pack and Charley brought these to the Foxcatcher and hunted hounds there for one season. Subsequently, he hunted hounds for one season with the Green Spring Valley when their huntsman had been injured, and then with the Essex for four or five years under Jim Brady and Anderson Fowler. He did not go directly to Vicmead from Essex, but it was not a long interval between the severance of that connection and when he took over the Vicmead hounds. He did a superb job according to Mr. Dean M. F. H. of Vicmead and was a most pleasant person with whom to be associated.

He carried on almost alone during the arduous period of the war years, and it is remarkable that a man of his then age could have done so. Charley really was not physically able to hunt a pack, tough he was the last one to admit it. But in 1944 Mr. Dean made him stop.

He then conceived the unconvencrews of two or three members, armed with hammers and a saw and nails, will put them together. A matto is also needed to dig in some ends of the "A" frames, to properly level the coop, but otherwise they can sit on top of the ground. The height of the coop will bring about some discussion and difference of opinion. Anything over three feet should be satisfactory to most landowners, but sometimes one will require that it be no lower than the top of his wire fence. Occasionally this results in quite a formidable obstacle. The slope on the coop should be such that it forms an equilateral triangle.

Another function of the Panneling Committee, or whoever handles the work, is to build bridges across particularly bad stream crossings. This will require two by twelve oak planks. Oak logs may be used as the stringers across the stream and large spikes will be needed. This job is much heavier than building coops and if it is possible to bring a tractor to the crossing to assist in putting the logs in place, it will help.

However it is done, if one takes a cue from the Warrenton Ride Parties the work will be easier. There is nothing like making a job into a party to insure its success.

tional arrangement of putting Charley in charge of everything except the hounds in the field, and the arrangement worked entirely satisfactorily, due to Charley's hearty cooperation. He was physically able to do this work which he knew so well, and did a fine job until his death.

Charley Carver's portrait was done by a Wilmington artist named Charles A. MacLellan who is a long time friend of Simpson Dean. Over the years he has done numerous magazine covers and though he has painted a number of portraits locally, he has done so more or less as a personal favor for friends.
